

BUSINESS AFFAIRS.

Davy Goons.—Guthrie & Bros. have now on hand a choice stock of fancy and staple dry goods, which they exhibit with pleasure, at 118 Fourth street.

Ladies who wish the better class of dress goods and domestics, for moderate prices, are invited to call and examine their stock.

Hoop Skirts.—John M. Robinson & Co. are now manufacturing a large stock for the Spring trade. Their Skirts have attained great popularity, as they use only the very best tempered watch spring steel, and each hoop is fastened to the tapes by means of a copper loop instead of the ordinary clasp. Thus effectively preventing the annoyance of the tapes being constantly cut. Their skirts can be had at all the retail houses throughout the South and West. Sold only at wholesale.

The great clothing house of J. M. Armstrong.—On Main street, opposite the National Hotel, is now being replenished with an elegant stock of men's and boys' clothing for the present season. His stock is well assured. Those in want of any garments for either men's youths' or children's wear, will do well to call at Armstrong's.

Trunks.—Among the places worthy of the attention of the visitors to Louisville at the present time, is the great trunk manufactory and emporium of J. H. McCleary, on the northeast corner of Fourth and Main streets. His large manufactory enables him to supply trunks, valises, bonnet and hat boxes, carpet bags, bureau trunks, etc., of the very best quality, at unprecedented low prices. All of Mr. McCleary's work is beautiful as well as durable. Give him a call.

Look to Your Interests.—The people are aware that D. O'Hare, No. 427 Main street, is the oldest, largest and most experienced manufacturer of trunks and similar articles in the city. They should avail themselves of the rare opportunity afforded by Mr. O'Hare. To country and city merchants he offers peculiar advantages in his wholesale department, while in the retail line he cannot be equalled. Whoever wants to travel, whether with a small carpetbag or a mammoth trunk, need go no further than the Great Western Trunk Factory of Mr. O'Hare.

His manufactory is a credit to Louisville, and should meet with extensive patronage. Hundreds of workmen are employed, and thousands of dollars weekly disbursed. As a matter of some pride, and to subserve economy, purchasers will consult their best interests in purchasing of Mr. O'Hare.

D. O'Hare.—The well known auctioneer is ready to accept any kind of consignments of new and second-hand furniture, which will be promptly attended to. The sales of the above mentioned articles will be every Thursday during the season. Remittances made immediately after the sale. Commission cheaper here than any other auction house in the city. Particular attention is given to out-door sales and real estate. The well known character of Mr. Grauman as a salesman requires no recommendation here, when, for years, he has served the public, and especially the foreign population, in the city.

Movements of THE MILITARY.—Shortly after twelve o'clock the various military companies of the city left their armories, each preceded by a band of music, and were marched in procession through the streets, fifty thousand flags were fluttering in the crisp, wintry breeze, from as many windows in the martial array were seen hurrying to and fro the national colors were flying from every window, and the gay, gay, gay, the carriage, and the head of every horse in the city; streamer, on which were inscribed patriotic sentiments and words of welcome, were stretched from house to house, and, as the processions went along, the principal ones were crowded with thousands of people, wearing their best attire and most cheerful smiles.

MOVEMENTS OF THE MILITARY.—After the regiment had been formed it took up its line eastward out of Fifth street to Race, then down Fourth, then down Fourth, then Park, up Park to Fifth, down Fifth to the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton depot, across to Sixth, where it deployed, the right extending up to Cutter, awaiting the arrival of the guests.

GOUDON'S SPEECH.—The movements of the three Legislatures, and the expected arrival of the Abolitionists in 1856, their arrival was signalized by a general shout of "Huzzah" from the crowd, and was followed by Major General Lytle in the following order:

SUNDAY MORNING JAN. 29, 1860.

Douglas a Disorganizer of the Party.

It is a little strange that a man who has held, expressed and published the same opinions on the policy of the country for the last ten years, should be a disorganizer now for maintaining these opinions. It is not pretended and can't be maintained that he has changed his opinion of the power of a Territorial Government, under the bills of 1850 or 1856. They have been repeated on the floor of the Senate, in the face of all its members, and he has been, during all the time, supported by that body in the matter of Secession, he represented his State; nobody denies that. If he differed with the Southerners of his party, the question is, was he bound to please the South in reference to his own people, whom he represented, at the sacrifice of his own judgment. We have shown, moreover, that on this subject of our territorial policy, he has on that subject all his party said; including the prominent representative men of the South of the Democratic party! He must now change or be a disorganizer. Who will do such things, and who are disorganizing the party. Some of the South may say what they please; their resolves will not prevent that they are Democrats. The public will decide who are disorganizers; who made a compromise, let the benefit of it, and broke it.

Douglas dictates to the party too; he will not accept a nomination on a platform he doesn't approve! Will any candidate accept a nomination on a platform he does not approve? Who is he that will do it? Point him out, and we shall say he is not fit to be supported by an honest man. The crime of Douglas is, that he speaks boldly and frankly. He will not cheat or be cheated. He is more than any man responsible for the territorial policy of the country, and he takes the responsibility. He is responsible for the territorial bills of 1850; he drew them with his own hand. He is responsible for the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. It could not have been repealed without him. He bore the credit and the odium; and will not consult Mr. Buchanan or Major General Lytle in the following order:

RIVER NEWS.

SUNDAY MORNING JAN 29, 1860.

The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant. The river continues to rise steadily but slowly. Last evening in the canal, by the mark, there were six feet nine inches, and in the pass, on the falls four feet nine inches.

With a decline of three inches in the previous 24 hours.

At Pittsburg yesterday the river was falling, with six feet nine inches water by the pier mark.

The Mississippi is falling at St. Louis, with six and a half feet water in the channel to Cairo.

The Missouri is reported open to St. Joseph. Nothing now from the Upper Mississippi or Illinois rivers.

The City Council of St. Louis, has appropriated $8,000 toward the removal of the Rock Island bridge.

The John Bain is due from New Orleans to-day.

The steamer Baltic, Captain Meekin, the Messrs. Jewell clerks, will leave Portland this morning at 10 o'clock for New Orleans.

The Woodford arrives from New Orleans yesterday morning, and departed in the evening with a fair trip. She has freight engaged, and will sail out below.

The Gray Eagle left for Henderson last evening with an excellent trip.

The John Bain, one of the finest and best boats on the river, in charge of experienced and clever officers, will leave for New Orleans on Monday evening. Capt. Underwood is in command, and Messrs. Palacio and Henry McDougal are the clerks.

The E. H. Fairchild, Capt. Fawcett, is advised to leave for New Orleans on Monday at 4 o'clock. The Fairchild is a first-class boat with excellent cabin accommodations, and in charge of clever and obliging officers. Messrs. Fawcett and Fawcett are the clerks.

The Kate May, Capt. Bruce, will leave the city wharf for Arkansas river on Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The Southerner, Capt. Goodall, is the U.S. mail and passenger packet for Memphis on Monday evening at 5 o'clock.

The Anglo-Saxon, in charge of Capt. Hale, will be at the city wharf on Monday morning, and will leave for St. Louis.

We take the following from the St. Louis Republican of Friday:

During the day, sailing at dark last evening, the river had fallen two or three inches at last even- tually, so that the boats were able to pass down stream, in great or small quantities, during the past two days. We understand, that the Missouri is opened to Leavenworth, and we expect to load and start out to-morrow.

Prospects for a speedy opening of the river are favorable, and we trust, will be realized.

The following is from the Memphis paper of the 25th:

The river at this point commenced slowly to recede yesterday, and had fallen two or three inches at last event- ually, so that the boats were able to pass down stream, in great or small quantities, during the past two days. We understand, that the Missouri is opened to Leavenworth, and we expect to load and start out to-morrow.

The Spanish forces had again moved forward.

Italy.—The news of Count Walweski's resig- nation had produced a very strong impression in Europe. He called a general council of the principal members of the Sacred College, and declared to them that he would never fail in the mission God had entrusted him with; but that like his predecessor, Pius VII, he would be exiled, and even martyred, rather than be separated from his flock.

Spain.—The Spanish army in Africa will be considerably increased by the arrival of the Spanish forces.
